

Breakthrough partners with Helium

Breakthrough has partnered with Helium (www.Helium.com), where web users can debate and share their points of view by writing articles in response to Breakthrough's questions. The Helium partnership allows a platform to generate discussion on Breakthrough's issues—namely immigration and human rights in the United States—and a place for civil dialogue online.

Breakthrough's Executive Director, Mallika Dutt says, "Breakthrough aims to reframe the immigration debate to explore how politics that respect due process and human rights can benefit all those who live in America. Posing questions at Helium like, 'Do you think of immigration as a human rights issue?' or 'How are all immigrants -legal and illegal- being affected by the current immigration laws?' will get people thinking, while learning new information."
